Hannah Ross of Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann named to Benchmark Top 250 Women in Litigation.

Benchmark Litigation has recognized Hannah Ross as one of the Top 250 Women in Litigation in its annual publication. Ross is a New York-based litigator with Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann.

The Top 250 Women in Litigation publication's extensive research process, which encompasses six months of investigation into the individual litigators' professional activities as well as client feedback surveys and individual interviews, has culminated in the selection of the most distinguished women in the world of litigation. These women have earned their place amongst the leading female litigators by participating in some of the most impactful litigation matters in recent history as well as by earning the hard-won respect of their peers and clients. Though they hail from widely different practice areas, they all share the distinction of being recognized as top players in their respective fields.

Listed within the US section of the Top 250 Women in Litigation publication, Benchmark Litigation had this to say about Ross:

Hannah Ross of Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossman's New York office is a gifted securities, civil, and criminal litigator. Over the course of her near two decade long career at the firm, Ross has been at the forefront of successful efforts to recover over six billion dollars for investors in high-profile disputes against monolithic corporations and financial institutions, such as Bank of America, Wilmington Trust, Nortel, and BioScrip. As one of the highest-ranking members of the firm's global securities and litigation monitoring team, Ross closely observes the trading of global equities outside of US jurisdictions in order to foresee prospective international securities matters.

Attorneys named to the 2021 publication were chosen through several phases of research: namely, the review of their recent case work, peer review in which we consider how attorneys at peer legal institutions might rank them, and a consideration of client feedback on their performances.

In addition to this honor, Bernstein Litowitz Berger & Grossmann also enjoys a number of firm-wide rankings and further individual attorney recognition by Benchmark Litigation.
